

R Scott Adams Bio:

After barely graduating college in 1993, Scott made his way to the “Graduate School of Sales” where he sold cars for three years before entering healthcare sales. In 1996, Scott started his career in healthcare with a small manufacturer out of Jacksonville, FL (known today as Healthlink/Clorox). In 1998, he moved to the wonderful world of selling gloves for Sempermed USA. Over the next nine years with Sempermed, Scott held the positions of Territory Manager, Director of National Accounts, and National Sales Manager. In August of 2006, Scott went to work for his largest customer -- National Distribution & Contracting (NDC) -- where he managed the ABCO Group. Today, Scott is the Publisher of Repertoire Magazine and Managing Partner at Share Moving Media. He manages the relationships between manufacturers and distribution.